WARMUP

You may not use artificial intelligence to answer the questions below.

2.
  - a. Tailwind can be used directly in HTML without writing individual CSS separately. It reduces style conflicts and is suitable for responsive design.
  - b. I think we can use flex items-center or grid to center.
  - c. We can use bg-color, if want change text color, we can use text-color-number to do it.
  - d. We can use @import first, then use @apply to reuse Tailwind classes while retaining the nesting and variable functions of SCSS
